

Plurilingualism in the Kingdom of Naples (1442-1503)

Reassessing uses and literary production

- Florence Bistagne (Université d'Avignon, Institut universitaire de France): 'Les langues au royaume de Naples: conjuguer le multilinguisme des personnes et le plurilinguisme littéraire'
- Chiara de Caprio (Università Federico II, Naples): 'Il plurilinguismo nel Regno: testi documentari e dell'uso e testi letterari'
- Valentina Sferragatta (Università Federico II, Naples): 'Leggere la storiografia del Regno alla luce delle dinamiche del plurilinguismo'
- Alessandro Carlucci (University of Bergen and University of Oxford): 'Per la storia dell'intercomprensione: il caso italomanzesco tra medioevo e prima età moderna'
- David Cowling (Durham University): 'Language mixing and its discontents in 16th-century France: the case of Henri Estienne'
- Susan Baddeley (Université Versailles Saint-Quentin): 'Europe in a book: the "Berlaimont" dialogues and their representation of Early modern European life'

Thursday 1 July 2021 | 9.45am - 5.00pm

LIVE and ONLINE:

École française de Rome, Piazza Navona 62, 00186 Rome

Details: warburg.sas.ac.uk/events/event/24476

Supported by: École française de Rome, Institut universitaire de France; Laboratoire identité culturelle, textes et théâtralité (Université d'Avignon); The Warburg Institute; DYPAC, Université Versailles Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelines

THE WARBURG
INSTITUTE

SCHOOL OF
ADVANCED STUDY
UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

institut universitaire
de France

DYPAC
Dynamiques patrimoniales
et culturelles

